

Internship in the South Caucasus Regional Office of the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung

The South Caucasus Regional Office of the Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung based in Tbilisi, Georgia and Yerevan, Armenia regularly offers the opportunity of internships. The duration of an internship is two to three months; this period may be extended in exceptional cases. We do not have internship placements during the summer period.

Application deadlines, duration, and periods

An internship at the FES South Caucasus Regional Office in Tbilisi or Yerevan should last three months and is possible during the following periods:

- Between February and June (App. deadline: 15 October of the previous year)
- Yerevan only: Between September and November (App. deadline: 15 January)

Requirements

- A student, preferably in the humanities or social sciences (advanced studies)
- Language skills: English and German; Georgian, Armenian or Russian is an asset.
- Interest in socio-political developments
- Community involvement and/or social/political activism
- Sound PC skills (MS Office)
- Team spirit, commitment, and flexibility

Task fields

- Participation in daily necessary office work and organization
- Preparing seminars, conferences and visitors' programs
- Attendance of events by FES and other international and local organizations
- Accompaniment of foreign delegations
- Independent elaboration of texts
- Support in the management of the website
- Internet research

Conditions

FES offers an expense allowance.

Expenditure for flights, accommodation and insurance must be covered by the intern and cannot be covered by FES.

Application

Please address your application in German or English (CV, letter of motivation, and period for the desired internship) directly to FES South Caucasus Regional office:

georgia@fes.de (Office in Tbilisi)

armenia@fes.de (Office in Yerevan)